ADDITIONAL RURAL ROUTES TO BE ESTABLISHED IN COUNTY

Postal Authorities Considering Method of Improving Service

INSPECTOR HEARS REQUESTS

Citizens From Various Parts of County Ask Changes—Presidential Office Favored for Proposed New Routes—CharleROI in Line

That there will be probably six new rural delivery routes established in Washington county, and that they will be from presidential offices were two things practically admitted by Rural Delivery Inspector Knight of the Postal Department on a special trip of inspection to the county Wednesday. Whether or not any of the new routes will be established from the CharleROI postoffice, or whether this office will be considered is a question. Considering that the aim of the department is to improve the service and considering the superior facilities here for handling rural delivery service, it is not unlikely to suppose that some effort will be made to have routes established from this office.

Inspector Knight was literally with requests from all parts of the county, when he arrived at the county seat. Beallsville citizens were on hand asking for a change. Inspector Knight informed them he could not recommend a new route there as it was the policy of the department to have routes started from presidential offices. Taylorstown patrons received some encouragement for some changes asked for there. Carriers from Eighty-Four and Monongahela asked that their routes be shortened. Claysville citizens asked for some changes, which Mr. Knight stated he would recommend. The carriers and postmaster from West Alexander asked for shorter routes as did many others.

In the course of the hearings Wednesday Mr. Knight said that he was under the impression that the routes were too long and believed with the establishment of about six new routes he could serve all the people and not have any route over 28 miles.

Mr. Knight expects to remain in Washington today and return to Washington City where he will report the results of his investigation and make his recommendations. He does not intend to travel over any of the routes at this time.

Officials for the parade which will be the leading feature of next Monday's Halloween celebration in CharleROI have been appointed and plans are now progressing to make the celebration one of the best that was ever held here.

Harry C. Hormell is to be the chief marshal of the parade. Judges to decide the best and most fantastically dressed persons and judge the best float in the parade will be Charles Bateman, Roland W. Brown, D. R. Hormell, H. W. Wilson and J. W. Marbas. The general committee arranging the celebration consists of J. B. Schafer, J. D. Berryman, George W. Might and W. B. Patterson.

MINIMUM TERM EIGHT MONTHS IN SCHOOLS

County Directors Approve Longer Term At Convention in Washington—Also Approve Course in Agriculture

That the minimum school term in every district in Washington county should be made eight months instead of seven is the opinion of the school directors, which in session at the county seat Wednesday passed a resolution to that effect. The directors also endorsed the study of agriculture in the seventh and eighth grades in the schools. The part of the general resolution bearing upon these two themes read as follows:

"We believe that it would increase the interest in the cause of education in our county, and enable the board of directors of the several school districts therein to enlist and employ better teachers to engage in the work of instructing the youth in our common schools, if the minimum school term in every district should be made eight months instead of seven months."

We earnestly commend to the several boards of directors of the school districts of our county the course or study of lessons, prepared by our committee on agriculture, and recommend that said course of study or lessons be taught to the 7th and 8th grade pupils in the schools."

POWERFUL INTERESTS IN RAILROAD SCHEME

Pittsburg District Coal Companies Planning Two Big Combinations. It is Reported Out of One—Time Gould Property And Others.

Powerful railroad and bituminous interests are scheming to create in the Pittsburg district two great combinations out of the wreckage of the one-time Gould properties, with some others floated in. Such is the information, resulting from a careful investigation started sometime ago and just announced by a committee, representing holders of a considerable amount of bonds of the Wabash-Pittsburg Terminal Railway.

It is understood that the most important railroads entering Pittsburg and the Pittsburg Coal company with other large bituminous interests are laying plans to disintegrate the Wabash-Pittsburg Terminal system of railroad lines and coal properties and then virtually to annex them. The coal combination proposed would take in the Pittsburg Terminal Railroad and Coal Company's valuable coal lands and operating mines, the Pittsburg-Buffalo company, the Pittsburg & Westmoreland Coal company and perhaps others. It is understood that such new company, which would have a producing capacity of 20,000,000 tons of coal a year is to be dominated by the Pittsburg Coal company.

THOMPSON FINANCIAL AFFAIRS AT UNIONTOWN STILL UNSETTLED

Another Meeting is Held. Only to Result in Postponement of Suits Until Coming Monday

The committee of five members of the Fayette County Bar Association appointed to consider plans to adjust the financial difficulties of J. V. Thompson, the Uniontown financier, whose bank failed last spring, met yesterday afternoon for Mr. Thompson's lawyers for Mr. Thompson.

After Monday suits may be filed but the writs will not be returnable until after November 22. According to the law, judgment cannot be entered until 30 days after the return of the writs, which will be on December 22. Mr. Thompson was at Uniontown Wednesday and attended the meeting. He left immediately afterward for New York, where it is understood he will endeavor to interest financiers in the matter.

SET FIRE TO HIS HOUSE IS CHARGE

Monongahela Man Arrested on Information of State Fire Inspector

CIRCUMSTANCES ARE UNUSUAL

As a result of an investigation which has been in progress for the past week under the direction of J. G. Lowers, assistant state fire marshal, Reuben Tempest, of the First ward, Monongahela has been charged with arson. The prosecution grows out of the fire which occurred at the Tempest home on the morning of Thursday, October 14th at about 10:15 a. m. At a hearing before Alderman R. L. Elwood Wednesday, Tempest was held for court without bail. He was taken to Washington.

The circumstances in the case are most unusual. It seems that the Tempest family has been at loggerheads for some time and that just a few days prior to the fire there, one of the sons was forced to have the father arrested on a charge of assault and battery. He was released on bail, pending the next term of court. This of course did not improve the domestic tranquility.

On the day of the fire everybody was away from the house with the exception of Mr. Tempest who claimed that he was working in the garage at the foot of the hill. When the fire department arrived on the scene there were three fires burning, all in different parts of the houses and no two of which could have possibly been due to the same cause. Various things pointed to incendiary origin

Ambrose L. Eakin and T. Ross Johnson of Washington Meet Sudden Death

BOTH ARE WIDELY KNOWN

One a Washington Councilman and The Other a Railroad Agent—Both Wedged Tightly Under Car—Broken Wheel the Cause.

In one of the saddest automobile accidents that ever happened in the Washington vicinity, Ambrose L. Eakin, Elgish ward, Washington, councilman and T. Ross Johnson, station agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad company at the Main street station in Washington were instantly killed by Mr. Eakin turned over on the National pike about four miles from Washington shortly after midnight Thursday morning. The two men were the only occupants of the ill-fated machine.

Death came instantly to both men. The weight of the heavy car overturning upon them inflicted injuries necessarily fatal. The bodies were not mangled. Mr. Johnson bore marks of the terrible accident upon his face and head. The two men were locked in tight embrace under the car, the bodies being wedged into the ditch at the side of the road.

The accident was due to the failure of the left rear wheel of the machine. The men had started from Washington and were driving west and the machine was evidently speeding at the time of the crash. When the wheel gave way, the car careened into the gutter and then turned over.

Pierce Morris and David E. Williams, both of Washington en route from Wheeling to Washington, were passing the McDowell residence when they saw the car ahead of them. A moment later they heard the crash and soon arrived at the scene of the catastrophe, being the first to reach the spot. Members of the family of J. N. McDowell heard the crash and hurried to the scene.

Deputy Coroner T. C. Bebout of Washington was notified and took charge of the bodies. Both men were widely known in Washington county. Mr. Eakin was district foreman of the South Penn Oil company a position he had held for some years. Both men were prominent Masons.

Mr. Eakin leaves the following children: Charles, Flossie, Glenn, Leon, J. Shaw, Fred and Fay. Mr. Johnson was a native of Amwell township. A number of brothers and sisters survive. He had been in the employ of the Pennsylvania railroad for many years. He was unmarried and made his home with his aunt, Miss Annie Johnson at 87 East Maiden street, Washington. No arrangements have been made for the funerals of the victims of the sad accident.

At the most people would rather mow the lawn than pay coal bills. and the arrival on the scene of the assistant state fire marshal was quickly followed by the arrest of Mr. Tempest.

THE OTHER DEATH TRAPS

Speaking of the awful Pittsburgh fire recently, the Gazette Times of that city says:

With five investigations of Monday's Danzinsky street fire in progress there is reasonable assurance that guilt and responsibility will be determined as to that particular event. Meanwhile there appears to be no doubt that the dangerous conditions existing at the premises in question were well known to officials whose business is to inform themselves of such affairs. Yet nobody took the necessary action to enforce improvement. All hands seemed to rest content with the understanding that their authority was inadequate and that the laws governing were insufficient. Somehow it did not occur to any of them to try out the case. The matter was allowed to drift until a crisis was reached, and then it was too late.

That the fire department could not be summoned promptly and that when it did arrive the hose was rotten. In other words, the situation was rotten all around. The state couldn't do this. The county couldn't do that. The city couldn't do the other thing. And the owner and factory people didn't do anything. So between the lot 13 helpless employees were done to death.

Now comes the assertion that Pittsburgh is full of death traps of like character. If this be true the authorities, in addition to getting at the whole truth of the North Side tragedy, and pushing every lead to definite conclusion, will do well to seek out and go after menaces of the same kind. The public will be slow to believe there is no law to reach them until the issue has been raised in good faith. Is the invitation to disaster to be tolerated without let or hindrance at the risk of human lives? It is up to officials who are guaranteeing rigid inquiry and stern measures with respect to Monday's calamity to shape their course so that the answer to this question shall leave the community in no uncertainty. Let them be influenced by the necessities of the occasion rather than by the selfish appeals of sordid commercialism.

It will be noticed that practically all who have been interviewed are able to place their fingers on some vital defect in the building law, the factory practice, or upon some glaring neglect. The knowledge which they thus profess should then be applied to the alleged death traps which it is declared exist elsewhere in Pittsburgh with a view to remedial action. Prosecution, injunction and publicity have been proven effective in compelling correction of manifest evils, and their efficacy might be tested now in the interest of industrial safety. It is a rude awakening that has come upon the city, and to ignore the morals is to take a grave hazard.

NEASE TO DELIVER BALLOTS:

WILL BE PACKED READY TODAY

Washington County Man Who Put Out Primary Ballots to Take up Same Sort of Work Friday.

W. G. Nease, who delivered the primary ballots at $1 a precinct or $140 for the entire vote will deliver the election ballots. These will be received by the commissioners today and will at once be packed ready for delivery to the various precincts of the county.

The work is done by automobile. If the weather remains good it is not difficult to reach every precinct of the county. Should it rain, some of the precincts in the southwestern part of the county are a long way off.

The ballots have to be put in the hands of the judge of each precinct, a receipt taken therefor and this receipt delivered to the commissioners. The ballots for this election are large and the number sent to each precinct, together with the specimen ballots makes a heavy bundle.

CLAIMS DAMAGES BY REASON OF AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Owner of Machine Running Between Coal Centre and Daisytown Blames Musser for Troubles.

In the suit of John Fabilis against W. R. Musser a claim for damages done an automobile in a collision, the plaintiff's statement has been led. The claim is for $1500.

The accident occurred last September on the brick road in East Pike Run township. The defendant at the time was driving a two-passenger automobile. The plaintiff was operating a four passenger car, which is used as a hack from Coal Centre to Daisytown.

The plaintiff avers that at the time he was driving car along the right side of the road, using all reasonable care and diligence. Further it is alleged that the defendant, who was driving the same direction as the plaintiff, approached the plaintiff's car in a reckless manner, collided with it and knocked it over against the culvert.

The plaintiff says his car was disabled, the windshield broken and the car put out of commission. He avers the plaintiff had ample room to pass and had he used reasonable care could have avoided the accident.

THOMPSON MORTGAGE IN THIS COUNTY WILL BE FORECLOSED

Upon petition of John M. White assignee of William M. and James Tucker the court has given him leave to foreclose on a certain mortgage held against Josiah V. Thompson of Uniontown.

A "scire facias sur mortgage," has been filed in which Mr. White as assignee of William M. Tucker and James Tucker is plaintiff and Josiah V. Thompson and Joseph Stern, et al., receivers of Mr. Thompson, are defendants. The debt due on the mortgage in question is $4,100 with interest thereon from March 6, 1914 at 6 per cent; also attorney's commission of 5 per cent.

The mortgage was originally for $16,400. It covers certain coal land in South Franklin township.

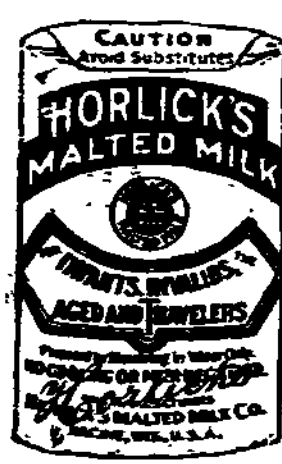

GLASS FACTORIES TO RESUME COMING WEEK

Many of the hand blowing window glass plants in this district will resume next Monday. Many workmen have secured places at Brownsville and Masontown. At a meeting in Pittsburgh the scale for the year was adopted. It grants a basic advance of 3 1-2 per cent over the old scale which expires October 28, and a differential of 20 per cent for single and double strength cutters, 25 per cent for flatteners on single strength and 30 per cent for flatteners on double strength glass.

"By George, I never saw anything like the effects of that new treatment, Tonoline Tablets, for building up weight and lost nerve force. It acted more like a miracle than a medicine," said a well-known gentleman yesterday in speaking of the revolution that had taken place in his condition. "I began to think that there was nothing on earth that could make me fat. I tried tonics, digestives, heavy eating, diets, milk, beer and almost everything else you could think of, but nothing did me any good until I took Tonoline."

Any man or woman who is thin can recover normal weight by the best new treatment Tonoline Tablets.

"I have been thin for years and began to think it was natural for me to be that way. Finally I read about the remarkable processes brought about by use of Tonoline Tablets so I decided to try it myself. Well, when I look at myself in the mirror now, I think it is somebody else. PITT PREPARING FOR COMING W. & J. GAME

University Squad Looking Forward to What Is Expected Will Be Championship Struggle at Pittsburgh on November 6.

With the coming of November a new chapter in the history of the University of Pittsburgh football team will be written. The team will be all their attention will be directed toward the game with Washington, which is expected to be the championship game. The fact that Pitt will be playing W. & J. on Yale for the second successive time adds to the interest in the game. The winner of the game will be the popular choice for the championship.

This year's team has been one of the best in the history of the University of Pittsburgh. They have won many games and it is likely that they will win the championship. The team has been very successful in the past and it is likely that they will continue to be so.

Pitt's showing in the Penn game was hardly what was expected, although the local adherents are satisfied. They put it to the fact that the game was too much for them and that was really all they desired. The aim of every Pitt man has been to defeat W. & J. this year and if there were weaknesses in the team such as developed against Penn, the bunch are glad they showed at Philadelphia rather than in the W. & J. game. After the way the Pitt backfield ran over the Indians and Navy they seemed to think the team was simply invincible and that the attack couldn't be stopped. Penn showed them it could and that it would take a mixed attack to win from a team of the calibre of W. & J. The Gold and Blue boys have learned their lesson, therefore and are going to profit by it.

Pitt will have the service of all her freshman players in the remaining games of the year and with McLaren, Seidel, Sies, Stahl, McNulty, Gougler and others who have been showing up well among the headline bunch, Coach Warner will have a much more formidable line-up than that which faced Penn.

The game with Allegheny Saturday is not being lost sight of as the Methodists will have their strongest team in and may be hard to defeat. Coach Warner will take no chances with them. It is expected that "Foxy" Miller, the speedy halfback who was hurt in the Carlisle game, may be able to play against Penn State, Thanksgiving day, although no hope is entertained of getting him in before that. He would have a great aid to the Warner machine at Penn as a defense for the men receiving punts was entirely lacking and was the cause of many fumbles.

Eat Breakfast Warm as Toast

You've always been a lot surer of a warm breakfast than of a warm dining room. In the morning hours the furnace is always an uncertain quantity and usually the earlier you eat breakfast, the colder the room in which you eat.

But that can all be changed, easily and inexpensively, by getting a

PERFECTION Smokeless Oil Heater

Light it in the dining room when you start the fire in the kitchen—then you're sure to eat your breakfast feeling as warm as is the toast on the table. Because you've breakfasted in comfort, you'll feel better and cheerier all through the day, and that, too, you can credit to the Perfection.

The Perfection burns kerosene—burns it without smoke, soot, ashes or odor. After meals you can carry it into the next room while lighted. It is absolutely safe. Because of its gallon tank, there is no need of constant refilling. Used with Rayolight Oil, the Perfection burns with intense heat and extreme economy of fuel.

Your dealer sells the Perfection from $2.75 to $5.00. See one before the next cold snap. NOW.

THE ATLANTIC REFINING CO. Pittsburgh and Philadelphia

Just a few drops of Atlantic Rayolight Oil in the soap suds used for washing linoleum, will preserve its surface and at the same time keep it looking glistening, new. That's economy for you. How do you make kerosene save you money? Think—because these advertisements will show you a way to make good, profitable use of your experience.

Water and Kerosene
There is a much difference between Rayolight Oil and kerosene. Rayolight Oil is a pure, refined kerosene, and it burns much cleaner and brighter than kerosene. It is the best oil for use in the Perfection heater.
